BORAH VOTED WISCONSIN DELEGATES

Idaho Senator Wins 22 Of 24 Places; F. D. R. Leads Primary Field

MILWAUKEE, April 8. (AP)—Senator William F. Borah of Idaho, in the first midwestern test of his presidential strength, had gained control today of all but two of the 24 Wisconsin delegates to the Republican national convention on the basis of incomplete returns.

While several contests were so close that the Borah margin might be reduced in the final count, his candidates generally prevailed over the state party organization's unopposed slate.

Meanwhile, Senator Borah's backers looked forward to Tuesday's primaries in Illinois when the Idaho senator will contest with Col. Frank Knox of Chicago, for the Republican delegates.

Roosevelt 2 to 1 From the standpoint of presidential preference, however, Wisconsin voters in yesterday's elections showed that President Roosevelt was a 2 to 1 choice over Borah on the basis of available returns.

The presidential primary was purely advisory, having no effect on the delegate contests.

The Democratic state organization, faced with opposition from only a few unopposed candidates, made a clean sweep of the delegate contest for Roosevelt and apparently will control 24 delegates.

Democratic Predominance

One outstanding factor in yesterday's elections, with a great army of new Progressive party voters sitting on the sidelines, was the predominance of the Democratic over the Republican vote.

President Roosevelt received 173,374 votes in 1574 of the state's 2918 precincts, compared to 99,477 votes cast for Borah in the same number of precincts.

Returns from more than three-fourths of the city's 397 precincts indicated Mayor Daniel W. Hoan, Socialist, was re-elected in close race with Sheriff Joseph J. Shinn, non-partisan.

President Heads Toward Port

MIAMI, Fla., April 8. (AP)—President Roosevelt headed toward port today from his fishing cruise with immediate attention centered on relief work in the tornado area in the southwestern states.

In an order last night, he allocated $2,500,000 to the Works Progress administration for immediate work in the disaster zone.

With busy days ahead as congress draws to a close and a national campaign opens, Mr. Roosevelt arranged to return to the White House on Friday. His special train goes first, however, to his Warm Springs, Ga., home.

BULLETINS

(By The Associated Press)

QUAKES IN CALEXICO—A big earthquake, which caused considerable damage in the vicinity late yesterday, but caused no damage.

SHIP IN DISTRESS—A British Guiana—The intercolonial trading schooner, Harvard, former United States university training ship, was reported in distress off St. Lucia today. She had no passengers aboard.

BURIED TREASURE FOUND! But It's Old Store Tokens

Buried treasure has just been found in Orange county—and that's a fact, not a myth.

It was reported today that $250 worth of it was unearthed by telephone company crew in Black Star canyon.

If this was 1912 instead of 1936, the finders could go on a spree. But it would have to be a hardware spree. The buried treasure was in the form of metal tokens used 20 years ago by the Trickey hardware store at Fourth and Broadway.

Mel Trickey, now in the real estate business with his brother, Frank, explained today that the store issued the tokens at a discount and they were used for cash at the store here and one at Balboa.

Lagunan Hunts Flies With Banana Bait

By ROCH BRADSHAW

Don Meadows of Laguna Beach left today for Lower California to "Bring 'Em Back Alive." He's going to use rotten bananas for ammunition.

Mr. Meadows purchased the bananas yesterday. He got the nice, ripe, mushy kind. Such bananas are relished by drosophila pseudoobscura, a very special kind of fruit fly. This particular kind of fruit fly, which by the way is not a Mediterranean fruit fly, prefers to eat rotten bananas served in milk bottles.

Professor Dobzhansky of the California Institute of Technology supplied the milk bottles which Mr. Meadows will use. Professor Dobzhansky is famous. He was educated in Russia after the revolution of 1917 and had considerable difficulty in getting away from there because Russia figured it was going to need some scientists. But Professor Dobzhansky came to the United States just the same.

He is now working with Dr. Thomas Hunt Morgan, head of the experimental zoology department at Caltech. Dr. Morgan is famous, too. He won the Nobel prize several years ago. He is a famous geneticist. Mr. Meadows neglected to explain what a geneticist is before he left for Lower California. He won't be back until next Saturday.

But a geneticist is a person who does something with flies, particularly fruit flies—and especially drosophila pseudoobscura. Because of the habits of this particular class of fruit fly, the drosophila pseudoobscura is hard to obtain. And so when Professor Dobzhansky heard that Mr. Meadows was going to Lower California, he hurriedly gathered up all the milk bottles his wife had neglected to put out for the milkman, and sent them to Mr. Meadows.

All geneticists work with a fruit fly called drosophila melanogaster. That is because the other kind—pseudoobscura—is hard to obtain. There is a very special fact about these fruit flies. They are not noted for what is sometimes called family pride, or race pride. They are not discriminating fruit flies. As a result it has been

CLAIM LANDON DIXIE BURIES SPLIT G. O. P. 426 VICTIMS

Hearst-Merriam Tie-up Is Flayed; California Party 'Shattered'

SACRAMENTO, April 8. (AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas was charged with responsibility for splitting the Republican party in California in a report issued over the signature of Arthur B. Dunne, chairman of the California Republican assembly.

The report included a letter written by Edward S. Shattuck, president of the assembly, to Fred Seaton, of the Young Republicans club of Kansas in which the head of the assembly said the entry of a Landon slate aroused his fears "that he (Landon) will be swept down to defeat... because of his efforts to carry Mr. Hearst and Mr. Merriam on his back."

"So far as the Republican party is concerned, I can assure you that it has been split and shattered."

The bitterness and resentment which has arisen in California cannot be adequately or properly described in words," the letter said.

The committee "views the situation" about as follows: "Under these circumstances it is certain the Hearst-Merriam ticket for Landon will be opposed. If it is not it would mean that the California voters would be in the same position as the Democratic voters were four years ago when McAdoo traded Garner out of the national situation at the instance of Mr. Hearst. Mr. Merriam has placed himself, in this ticket is successful, in a position which he feels will give him a pretty strong hold on all the patronage in California, because, of course, he already has the state patronage."

Family of 13 Placed in Single Grave; F. D. R. Grants Relief Fund

GAINESVILLE, Ga., April 8. (AP)—Almost 400 storm dead of Gainesville and of Tupelo, Miss., went to hastily dug graves today, in some instances in group burials for sanitation reasons.

Across a half dozen Southern states, but avoiding these two towns for the time being, sluggish rising streams sent yellow floods over hundreds of thousands of acres of land and brought a fresh menace to life and property.

The total dead from storm and flood this week stood at 426, with the most at Tupelo 155 and at Gainesville 185.

The destitute were cheered by word that President Roosevelt had allocated $2,500,000 for rehabilitation through the WPA.

13 in One Grave

The torrents of rain that accompanied and followed the high twisting winds inundated hundreds of thousands of acres in a half dozen Southern States, but brought no immediate menace to Tupelo and Gainesville.

At Tupelo the 13 bodies of what once was the Burroughs family were interred in a single 35-foot grave.

Funeral processions shared the newly-opened streets with the trucks of WPA and other workers removing the tons of debris.

Double Watch on Mexico Railroads

MEXICO CITY, April 8. (AP)—Military vigilance on all Mexican railroads and other communications lines was redoubled today, by the order of President Lazaro Cardenas, to prevent any repetition of the dynamiting Monday night of the Vera Cruz-Mexico City train in which 13 persons died and 18 were injured.

Five separate agencies of the federal and Vera Cruz state governments opened investigations of the scene of the bombing near Paso del Macho, Vera Cruz, in an effort to determine those responsible for the tragedy, and to capture them.

League to Honor Woodrow Wilson

GENEVA, April 8. (AP)—A large celestial sphere in bronze has relief will be erected on the central terrace of the new League of Nations building to the memory of Woodrow Wilson, it was decided today.

Funds for the memorial, commemorating the late United States president's initiative in the creation of the league, were contributed by the Woodrow Wilson foundation of New York.

FINLEY SAYS EXTRA LINE PROPOSED

No Additional Cash Is Needed, Secretary of District Declares

The Metropolitan water district stands ready to build and finance the proposed aqueduct through Black Star canyon and divert one-half of the Metropolitan aqueduct flow through it, provided the rest of Orange county comes into the water district.

Col. S. H. Finley made this announcement today following his return from a tour of the aqueduct yesterday. He said enough money has been saved so far on aqueduct construction so that the Black Star line could be built without an additional bond issue.

The line, if built, also would carry water through Orange county to San Diego county, where it would be delivered at Lake Hodges to supply San Diego city, said Colonel Finley, who is secretary of the Metropolitan board of directors.

Three Orange county cities—Santa Ana, Fullerton and Anaheim—are now members of the Metropolitan Water District. For some time a study has been under way as to the possibility of rural areas coming into the district. The board of directors of the county water district has conferred with the Metropolitan Water District board. Engineers are working out estimates as to the exact cost of supplying aqueduct water to the agricultural regions.

Building of the Black Star line, however, depends entirely upon Orange county becoming part of the district. If this is not done, member cities in Orange county will receive their Metropolitan water from the line from Pomona and a different line will be built to supply San Diego in case it becomes part of the district.

No official figures are available on the cost of Metropolitan water for Orange county agriculture, said Colonel Finley, but he expressed his personal opinion that it could be delivered at a cost of $15 to $20 per acre-foot.

Hitler Fears Red Attack From Air

LONDON, April 8. (AP)—The British government published a white paper today disclosing Reichsfuehrer Hitler's fear that Berlin "might easily be reduced to a heap of ashes" from a Russian air attack.

The white paper, outlining Anglo-German-French diplomatic discussions for securing European peace from June, 1934, to March, 1936, showed that der Fuehrer expressed that view to Sir Eric Phipps in Berlin Dec. 16.

To Issue Stamps For Fair at S. D.

SAN DIEGO, April 8. (AP)—California Pacific International Exposition will share honors with the Connecticut Tercentenary, Michigan Centennial and Texas Centennial expositions when a special sheet of four stamps goes on sale May 9 in conjunction with the third international philatelic exhibition in New York May 9 to 17. Postmaster General Farley today notified the San Diego fair management.

Students Strike In Kansas Town

CHETOPA, Kas., April 8. (AP)—Nearly 400 grade and high school students were on strike today because the school board did not employ John Ogden as superintendent.

The students went on strike yesterday when they learned Lester Yeoman had been hired in place of Ogden, acting superintendent.

Hawaii Clipper Is Flying West

MIAMI, Fla., April 8. (AP)—The Hawaiian clipper, the world's largest airliner and newest addition to the Trans-Pacific fleet, roared up from Biscayne Bay here today, bound for Acapulco, on the west coast of Mexico.

Olive Denied Vote On Bond Issue

The Olive school district today felt somewhat like the hostess who invited guests to dinner and then, through a slip, didn't have any food for them.

It was that way at 1 p. m. yesterday when voters were scheduled to ballot on a proposed $8000 bond issue to help finance a $15,000 community building. The folks came to the grammar school to vote, all right, but they couldn't cast ballots because there wasn't any register of voters. No election is much good without a register of voters.

But the Olive people held an election anyway—on a straw vote. It showed that 75 per cent of those who expressed themselves favored the bond proposition. However, this won't be official, and another election will be held in connection with the primaries on May 5.

Absence of the register of voters was largely the fault of coincidence. Apparently no one was at fault but County School Superintendent Ray Adkinson said if anyone was to blame he wanted to take the rap. Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner also wanted to be blamed for the mixup, if anyone had to be.

It seems that everyone thought someone else had notified County Clerk J. M. Backs that there was to be an election at 1 p. m. yesterday. But Mr. Backs did not receive notice until yesterday morning. Mr. Turner, legal advisor to the school district, said the clerk is entitled to 10 days notice. Under ordinary conditions it often has been possible to get the register on much shorter notice.

However, this year the old registration list became ineffective April 1. Registration lists for school districts closed Feb. 27. In the meantime Mr. Backs has been busy making up a mailing list for some 60,000 voters. Because of the mountain of work connected with this year's entirely new registration, it would have been impossible to go through the entire list on short notice and segregate the voters for the four precincts in yesterday's scheduled election. The community building is planned as a Works Project administration project.

FASCISTS EYE ADDIS ABABA

Sky Patrol Ready for Triumphant Flight; Selassie May Flee

ADDIS ABABA, April 8. (AP)—Seven Italian airplanes were reported by the Ethiopian government to have bombed Dessie this morning.

The report said one of the planes started for Addis Ababa but returned to the north after reconnoitering over Scholamedia.

By EDWARD J. NEIL

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press) GURA, Emperor of the Northern Italian Army, April 8.—The sky patrol of Italian airmen is already forming plans for a triumphant Fascist entry into Addis Ababa.

The air forces are arranging to have 200 machines fly over the Ethiopian capital on that occasion, and from predictions that Dessie will fall within a week and Harar perhaps at the same time.

The fliers are watching now for an anticipated attempt by Emperor Haile Selassie to escape by air from Addis Ababa.

Airmen told me they were patrolling the sky lanes between Dessie and Djibouti, French Somaliland, particularly watching for the tri-motored plane the emperor is known to have cached somewhere close to his capital.

Instructions to the Italian airmen are to withhold their fire, but to allow the Negus' plane and ascertain its destination.

It is reported here that the emperor's private home at Djibouti has been renovated in preparation for his escape.

CITRUS CASE SUBMITTED

Withers Prorate Test Taken by Judge Here Under Advisement

At the close of an involved five-day court session, evidence in the trial of Withers Brothers, Placita and Fullerton citrus packing house, for alleged violation of prorate and shipping provisions of the California-Arizona citrus marketing agreement, was taken under advisement late yesterday afternoon by Superior Judge James L. Allen.

The court hearing is on an order to show cause why an injunction restraining the packing firm from shipping any more oranges in violation of the agreement, and of the California AAA, should not be issued.

Admits Allegations

The packing firm admits all important allegations in the complaint of the district attorney's office, represented by Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner, but in turn challenges the legal authority of the agreement, and charges that prorate penalties constitute an illegal delegation of authority.

Evidence introduced in the trial showed that the growers advisory committee, consisting of eight members, operates under authority from the California-Arizona marketing agreement to set prorate and regulate shipments, with (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

Jail Man Who Shot At School Bus

PASO ROBLES, April 8. (AP)—Merle L. Smith, 55, was jailed here today after Police Chief Claud Azbell said he allegedly shot six times at a bus loaded with school children, none of whom was hit.

Chief Azbell said Smith followed the bus, bound from San Miguel to Paso Robles High school, for five miles before he started shooting. The first shot caused panic among the children, and the bus driver, Price Haynes, sped up with Smith following in his automobile.

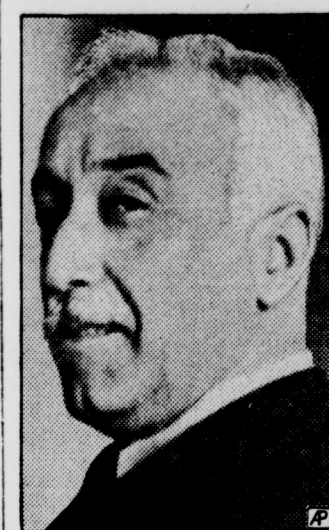

Azbell stated witnesses declared Smith emptied one gun and started shooting with another while following the bus into the school grounds. The bus was struck five times.

Coogan Wins in 2 Damage Suits

LOS ANGELES, April 8. (AP)—Jackie Coogan, young screen actor, won two damage suits against him for $300,000 today.

Superior Judge Frank Swain directed a jury to bring in a verdict for Coogan. The suits were based on an automobile accident last year in which Coogan's father, John H. Coogan, and three of the actor's friends were killed.

Ousted President

NEW SPANISH HEAD NAMED

Barrio Gets Presidency Of Spain After First Leader Is Ousted

MADRID, April 8. (AP)—Diego Martinez Barrio, moderate left Republican, assumed the presidency of Spain today after a dramatic session of the parliament which ousted the present Republic's first president, Niceto Alcala Zamora.

In several sections fresh outbursts of the political violence which has spread through Spain since the leftist triumph in the February parliamentary elections accompanied the strutting change. Alcala Zamora, an outstanding creator of the republic, was turned out of office in a political upheaval that bore a striking similarity to the overthrow of former King Alfonso at the hands of Alcala Zamora himself just five years ago.

The entire chamber of deputies stood silently while Martinez Barrio entered the chamber and took the oath. Immediately, then, a loud cheer arose:

"Long live the republic."

The cortes will vote tomorrow on calling within eight days of an election for presidential electors. The new president must be elected within three months by a joint session of the parliament and an equal number of electors.

Congressmen to Visit West Coast

WASHINGTON, April 8. (AP)—With the view of strengthening West coast naval defenses, a house delegation plans an inspection tour of Pacific coast naval stations in the near future.

Dr. U. L. Di Ghilini, the investigator, said $10 was charged for ordination as a minister, $5 more for a doctor of divinity degree—with no theological study necessary—and $15 additional for a third rank of bishop.

Results of the inquiry probably will be given to the district attorney's office, the Rev. Dr. Isaac Ward, association leader, announced.

In assisting the investigation, Penner, radio and screen comedian, permitted the name of his pet fowl, Goo Goo, to be used on

SENDS FIERY MESSAGE TO LEADERS

Laguna Man Denies He Represented Self as Government Officer

Capt. Don Wilkie of Laguna Beach, today sent a telegraphic "bomb" across the continent to explode under the noses of Townsend plan leaders at Baltimore who were reported to have accused him of falsely representing himself to be a government officer. The sizzling wire asked Dr. F. E. Townsend, founder of the movement, to release Captain Wilkie from a confidential relationship in which he has investigated certain regional organizers. "I am fed up with reprehensible tactics among some of your followers whose ethics smack of a type that would make hoodlums blush with shame," wired Captain Wilkie.

Club Secedes

This development was almost simultaneous with the secession from the Townsend organization of club 92 at Los Angeles, which pledged its loyalty to its president, George Higley, after the Townsend directors at Baltimore had demanded his removal. The directors yesterday were reported to have said Mr. Higley employed Captain Wilkie and that he was to "scare" Walter L. Townsend, brother of the founder, into resigning from the board of directors.

Captain Wilkie denied both statements yesterday in The Journal.

Today he denied having represented himself as a government officer and demanded of Dr. Townsend that he provide the press and Wilkie with a correct statement about Walter Townsend's resignation.

Wilkie's Telegram

Captain Wilkie's complete message of Dr. Townsend follows: "Papers quote your board in Baltimore calling for resignation of President Higley, Los Angeles Club 92, as conspiring with me and saying: 'Wilkie did represent himself falsely to be government officer or at least officer of investigation committee,' and thereby did intimidate Walter Townsend. So far decency has dictated my silence because of confidential capacity with you, but such malice (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

Crusaders' Work Told Committee

WASHINGTON, April 8. (AP)—Conversion of the Crusade of an anti-prohibition organization to a group opposed to many New Deal activities was described today to the senate lobby committee.

Fred G. Clark, Mentor, Ohio, national commander, testified that late in 1933, after repeal of prohibition, a "majority of the leaders" felt there were "50 other prohibitions" that had to be eliminated.

Clark testified attacks had been directed against the utilities holding company bill, the banking bill of 1935, and the Tennessee Valley authority.

HEARST LOSES COURT FIGHT TO BLOCK SENATE TELEGRAM QUIZ

INJUNCTION IS DENIED FOR PUBLISHER

'Will Fight to Supreme Court,' Lawyer for Hearst Declares

WASHINGTON, April 8. (AP)—William Randolph Hearst lost in the District of Columbia supreme court today in his effort to secure preliminary injunctions to restrain the senate lobby committee and the federal communications commission from examining or using his telegrams.

Chief Justice Alfred A. Wheat granted a motion by Crampton Harris, lobby committee counsel, to dismiss the publisher's injunction plea.

He said the communications commission had produced affidavits that it did not intend to repeat or continue any investigation it might have made of Hearst's telegrams.

The court stipulated that final disposition of the commission angle of the litigation could only be made when it files a formal answer to the publisher's petition.

Elisha Hanson, Hearst counsel, immediately served notice of intention to appeal.

"We are going to fight as far as we can get—that's the supreme court of the United States," he said.

Chief Justice Wheat delivered his ruling extemporaneously after the injunction had been asked in the name of freedom of the press and opposed as an effort to coerce congress.

Denouncing Seizures
Denouncing the telegram seizures, Hanson told the court the lobby investigators were not authorized "to commit larceny or to conspire with another agency of the government to commit larceny."

Referring to Hanson's contention that the seizures violated constitutional guarantees of freedom of the press, Justice Wheat said:

"I can't see how the question of freedom of the press is involved in any way."

He added publishers are "amenable to judicial procedure."

As the communications commission, he said he felt he had a right to issue an injunction if it had been proceeding unlawfully.

Referring to the affidavits by commission members, he observed he would "have to give them credit for being truthful."

"I'll have to deny the motion for preliminary injunctions without prejudice."

MORE ABOUT FLY CATCHER

found that fruit flies of the several varieties in this species have become hopelessly inter-married. It is hard to find flies of a pure strain.

Only at spots far removed from civilization are the pure blooded fruit flies of this class found.

Going Far, Far Away
Mr. Meadows is going rather far from civilization. He hopes to reach the ruins of an old mission in Lower California, known as Santa Catarina de las Yumas. He will drive to Ensenada, then go east through Las Cruces canyon until he comes to a fork in the road. The left hand road would take him to the ruins of Real del Castillo, once a famous mining town and at one time the capital of the northern district of Lower California. But Mr. Meadows will not take the left hand. He will take the right hand road, and that will lead him to the mission site.

Whenever he and his party stop to camp, Mr. Meadows will get out the milk bottles sent to him by Prof. Dobzhansky. Then he will poke around until he finds the rotten bananas. He will put these in the milk bottles and place them around the camp at spots where it looks like the drosophila pseudobscura might like to have lunch.

No Call or Whistle
That's about all he'll have to do. No particular call or whistle is required to attract the fruit flies to the rotten bananas. If the flies are in that vicinity they will come without calling. When a satisfactory number of flies is in the bottles, Mr. Meadows will slip up and dexterously put caps on the bottles.

Then he will go back to the light at the camp and transfer them to sterile bottle containing an agar culture. In these bottles the flies can live for quite a few days. But immediately upon returning to Laguna Beach, Mr. Meadows will rush the bottles of flies to Professor Dobzhansky at Caltech.

Upon receiving the bottles, Professor Dobzhansky will smile happily and go to work. Just what he will do with the flies is a matter of purely scientific interest. And anyway it is his own business what he does with the flies.

Flower Dress

Bluebonnets, the state flower of Texas, which will play a major part in decorations of the Texas Centennial exposition, the $25,000,000 World's fair opening in Dallas June 6, form this slightly abbreviated dress worn by Marty Bundschuh. The flower blooms only in Texas.

MORE ABOUT WILKIE

ous misstatement coming from your newly organized board in their desire to force Highley out necessitates this demand that you immediately provide me and the press with a statement based upon your brother's statement declaring he willingly provided me with desired resignation as reaffirmation of previous one of last June, and that I neither represented myself to him as a government officer or officer of committee.

"It will alter the complexion of my connection with that resignation to know I received it and sought it because I had been advised by an officer of your organization that it would aid your brother in event of legal complications. Failing to receive same immediately, will proceed by all legal means to protect myself from attempts to make me the goat because of disloyalty, evasiveness, buckpassing and worse among those of your associates who are responsible for this slanderous and libelous statement.

"Highley reported to me as declaring in his club meeting yesterday that Clements had reimbursed me before you did, which, if that is a fact, is a damnable lie. I am fed up with reprehensible tactics among some of your followers whose ethics smack of a type that would make hoodlums blush with shame. Your own decency, Doctor, will dictate that you release me from our confidential relationship so that I may defend myself against charges of being private detective and lack of decency."

Club 93 Largest
Townsend club 93 at Los Angeles, which succeeded yesterday, is the largest Townsend organization in the country with 22,000 members. About 1,800 members responded to Mr. Highley's call for yesterday's meeting at the Mason opera house where they heard the charges of "disloyal conduct" against Mr. Highley and reaffirmed their loyalty to him. The club voted unanimously to disband, then reorganize immediately without affiliation with the national organization.

Directors of the Townsend movement at Baltimore yesterday voted to seek to end the congressional investigation now under way. Chairman Bell (D., Mo.) of the house Townsend investigators said:

"It appears that some of the leaders are getting jittery at the disclosure of abused trusts and betrayed and violated confidences made at the investigation hearings so far."

County Firemen Planning Dance

Members of the Orange County Firemen's Association will be hosts April 28 at the organization's annual dance, to be held in the Santa Ana American Legion hall.

Announcement of the date set for the dance was made today by Fire Marshal Elmer Gates, member of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Tickets for the dance are 50 cents a couple, Mr. Gates said. Music for the affair will be furnished by Ray Gilbert's orchestra.

TAX MEASURE READY FOR WRITING

WASHINGTON, April 8. (AP)—After listening to spokesmen of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States pound the $779,000,000 tax program, Democratic house ways and means committee members pushed on today to write it into bill form.

With public hearings ended, informed sources hinted that few changes of importance would be made in the program.

Chairman Doughton (D., N. C.) intimated that in view of vehement Republican opposition to the program, the Democratic committee alone would be called into the meetings which will decide the question of possible alterations.

"We had hoped to work out a non-partisan measure," he said, "but the Republican members apparently are in agreement to oppose the plan with every means at their command."

Doughton said he hoped to have a bill ready for the house early this week.

The program, as tentatively drawn, is featured by a tax on corporation income, graduated according to the portion of income held in corporation treasuries instead of being distributed to stockholders.

Medical Auxiliary Elects Officers

Progress of the birth control campaign abroad and in the United States was outlined yesterday by Dr. Nadina Kavinsky, Los Angeles, who spoke to members of the Orange County Medical Association auxiliary, meeting at the Fullerton home of Mrs. F. H. Gohar.

Elected to take office in June, Mrs. K. H. Sutherland was named president; Mrs. D. C. Cowles, Fullerton, vice president; Mrs. G. E. Raitt, secretary; Mrs. L. E. Wilson, treasurer. Mesdames Dexter Ball D. C. Cowles, R. C. Greene and G. W. Olson were elected delegates to auxiliary convention the latter part of May in Coronado.

Alternates will be Mesdames M. W. Hollingsworth, Harry Huffman, G. E. Raitt and E. L. Russell.

Mrs. Sutherland and Mrs. Raitt poured tea, at a table decorated with wisteria and yellow roses. Hostesses were the Mesdames Gohar, Cowles, C. F. Kohlenberger, Arthur J. Nies, John Wehrly and R. P. Yeagle.

Couple Sue Three For Damages

Asking a total of $22,422.46 for injuries sustained in an automobile accident on Feb. 15 at First and Townsend streets, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Garland, Santa Ana, instituted suit today against George B. Barnes, Ezeriel Overby and Frank W. Crofoot, San Juan Capistrano.

Overby at present is serving a sentence in the Orange county jail for conviction of drunken driving in connection with the accident, which occurred when he and Mr. Crofoot were returning to the mission city from an outlying Santa Ana roadhouse. The car was the property of Mr. Barnes, San Juan Capistrano druggist, by whom Overby was employed.

Mr. Garland asks total damages of $13,461.71 for injuries, loss of working time, loss of his wife's company, and damage to the car. Mrs. Garland is asking $8,960.75 for injuries, loss of her husband's company, and specific damages.

Jurors Selected For Damage Trial

Twelve jurors to hear the damage suit for $50,000 of George W. Heimes against Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Speich and Vernon Speich, Anaheim, were selected this morning in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court.

Mr. Heimes is asking damages as the result of injuries sustained in a traffic accident on July 17, 1935. In a cross-complaint charging Mr. Heimes with negligence, Mr. and Mrs. Speich are asking $50 damages for their car, and attorney's fees.

Mr. Heimes is represented in the case by Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe. Otto Jacobs of the Santa Ana firm of Head, Wellington and Jacobs, is representing the defendants.

Members of the jury are Edna Dow, Inez Lehman, Claude A. Bailey, Mrs. Minnie Bremer, Marie Braybrooks, Marjorie Couden, Mary Verburg, Charles E. Boyd, Alex Grant, Ruth Berry, Irene Anderson and C. J. Wassom.

Maps Evidence in Berkeley Trial

LOS ANGELES, April 8. (AP)—Photographs of the wreckage of three automobiles were shown today to the jury trying Busby Berkeley, film dance director, on second-degree murder charges.

Three persons were killed in the crash. A big aerial map was also displayed in court, showing the winding highway over which Berkeley drove from a party at the home of William Koenig, film producer, just before the accident.

Talkie movies were recently made of native American bird voices in southern states.

Theater Sued For Damages By Woman

Charging that the balcony steps in the Fox-West Coast theater, Santa Ana, are of uneven size and poorly lighted, Mrs. Ellen B. McKenzie, Santa Ana, named the theater as defendant in a $5300 damage suit brought today for injuries sustained when she slipped and fell in the theater exactly a year ago yesterday.

Mrs. McKenzie claims she broke her right wrist and strained and wrenched her right shoulder when she fell. The wrist injury, she says, will be permanent.

According to her charges half of the steps leading down to the lower balcony are 12 inches in width, and half 18 inches in width. It was this fact and dim lighting, she charges, which caused her to slip and fall.

The Santa Ana law firm of Head, Wellington and Jacobs, and H. C. Cameron, are representing her in the action.

SANTA ANA'S DAY SET AT GARDENS

Santa Ana day at Rancho Santa Ana Botanic Gardens will be Saturday, May 9. The date was announced yesterday by Howard L. Wood, secretary of the chamber of commerce, which is sponsoring the event with the cooperation of the Gardens management.

On that day special arrangements will be made to conduct visitors through the grounds to see the many varieties of native flowers, trees and shrubs growing in the Gardens.

Permits for the visit may be secured at the chamber of commerce office here starting Thursday. The grounds will open at 10 a. m. May 9 but it has been requested that guests try to come at hours throughout the day so there will be no congestion. There is plenty of room, but guides will be able to conduct their parties more satisfactorily if there are not too many in the groups.

Picnic tables and accommodations are available for about 200 persons at a time. In future years two Saturdays will be set aside as special days for visits, with one of these days being Santa Ana day.

News of the visit for this year's visit was made public after Mr. Wood had received a letter from Mrs. Susanna Bixby Bryant, who endowed the institution and is a member of the board of directors.

ROTARY HEARS TALK ON WAR

Santa Ana Rotarians yesterday heard Edward Flynn, assistant to the general counsel of the Great Northern Railroad, in an address based on the lesson of war.

In his address delivered at the Green Cat cafe, Mr. Flynn told Rotarians that all wars in the past have resulted in depression. This depression in which the country finds itself today is a direct result of the last war, he said. It is inevitable that prices of necessary articles increase during a war due to the fact that factories are expending energy on products to be sold to the warring countries, he said, adding that when the war is over, factories once again start producing for home consumption, resulting in a flooded market.

"With the money that European countries owe us today, we are not likely to lend them more money with which to start another war," Mr. Flynn said. "However, the next war, although it will be even more costly than the last one in dollars and cents, will be even more costly in the number of lives lost."

The program chairman was William H. Spurgeon. Incidental to the meeting, five new members were initiated into the club. They are William C. Jerome, Dr. R. J. Brockbank, George C. Perkins, C. A. Warren and Ward Ackley. The club also unanimously elected the seven directors nominated by the nominating committee last week. They are L. H. Crawford, Guy J. Gilbert, Stanley E. Goode, Lawrence F. Haven, Elmer Heidt, Herbert L. Miller and Robert Schilling. The president for the coming year will be selected from this group at a meeting of the board, scheduled for some time this week.

Fred A. Stowe Passes Away

Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. George A. Warner at 10:30 a. m. Thursday, in the Winbiger mortuary chapel, 609 North Main street. Masonic burial rites will be observed at Fairhaven cemetery by members of Santa Ana lodge No. 241.

Mr. Stowe leaves his widow, two daughters, Miss Lettie Stowe, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Fred A. Roepke, Rochester, Minn.; two sons, Keith Stowe, Pasadena, and Kenneth Stowe, Santa Ana, and a brother, Ed L. Stowe, Bellingham, Wash.

LEAGUE AIRS WAR CHARGE

Italy's Use of Poison Gas Will Be Fully Probed By Geneva Council

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

GENEVA, April 8.—The League of Nations' committee of 13 today appointed a sub-committee of jurists to investigate charges that Italy was using poison gas in Ethiopia.

At the same time, the committee of 13—which is made up of every member of the league council except Italy—empowered its president, Salvador de Madariaga of Spain, to try to learn Premier Mussolini's terms for making peace.

Earlier Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, protested against the alleged use of poison gas by the Italian armies, while in Rome Premier Mussolini said Italy would fight for the "total annihilation of the Ethiopian military formation."

The French came forward, at the same time, with the publication of their plan to maintain peace in Europe with the establishment of permanent military forces guard against violation of frontiers.

The Mexican delegation, meanwhile, filed a protest with the league against the "paralyzation" of sanctions against Italy and did not wish to partake of the lessening of punitive measures against the aggressor nation.

Defendant Wins In Damage Suit

The $16,050 damage suit of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Yates, Los Angeles, against the Home Oil company for damages sustained in a traffic accident on Jan. 21 in Anaheim resulted in a verdict in favor of the defendant yesterday in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court.

It took a jury only two hours to reach the verdict, denying damages to the couple, whose car crashed into one of the oil company's trucks at West Center and Phala streets.

The jury was composed of A. R. Todhunter, Inez Lehman, Mary Verburg, J. W. Hatherly, Mrs. Helen C. Hudson, H. A. Robinson, C. J. Wasson, Edna Dow, Mrs. Margaret Collins, Mrs. Minnie Collins, Mrs. Minnie M. Bremer and Mrs. Maude D. Hendrie.

Named Receivers Over Protests

WASHINGTON, April 8. (AP)—House prosecutors of impeachment charges against Federal Judge Halsted L. Ritter of Florida introduced witnesses in the senate trial today to show that the jurist appointed a receiver for the Whitehall hotel at Palm Beach over the protest of bondholders attorneys.

Defense counsel, on cross-examination, brought out that while the protests were made before Ritter appointed Walter S. Richardson as receiver, no appeal from his decision was taken.

MORE ABOUT CITRUS TEST

the nominal approval of Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace. LeRoy Lyon, Anaheim, is the Orange county member of the committee.

Point In Issue
It was explained that the point in issue in this trial is in reference to intra-state shipping regulations and limitations, but that the authority of the committee is delegated from the inter-state pact. The constitutionality of the inter-state, or federal, agreement, however, is not challenged.

A court hearing, companion to the case here, was concluded before Federal Judge Leon Yankwich in Los Angeles 10 days ago, and resulted in a victory for the federal agreement.

Brock Sets Prorate
A. A. Brock, state director of agriculture, sets the prorate as recommended by the growers committee, under terms of the state agricultural administration. The federal hearing has been appealed to the United States supreme court, so the constitutionality of either agreement has not actually been determined as yet.

Conviction on the charges of violation would result either in a withdrawal of the firm's license, Mr. Lyon said today, or in the imposition of a so-called triple-damage penalty, which is three times the value of fruit over-shipping.

Wants No Penalty
However, if the Withers Brothers firm is found guilty, Mr. Lyon said he personally would ask that the penalty be lifted.

A battery of legal authority was called into service for the court sessions here. The state's case was argued by Mr. Turner, Ivan McDaniel, Redlands, counsel for the growers advisory committee, and George Thompson, Los Angeles, counsel for the United States agricultural administration.

S. B. Kaufman, former district attorney, and Erwin H. Haas of Los Angeles, appeared for Withers Brothers.

LAGUNA CAR GOES ON SPREE

Driverless Auto Runs Amuck

"Traveling — traveling — all alone."

This was the theme song of a driverless car that went on a spree through Laguna Beach streets yesterday afternoon, creating no end of consternation and some little damage.

The car, owned by Hugo Lutz, Laguna Beach, was parked on a hill in front of 433 Locust street. The driver had left for a few minutes, and apparently the car took the opportunity to do a little unsupervised rolling. It started down the hill, gaining momentum with each foot of progress.

Two blocks from the starting point the driverless car jumped a curb and started an erratic course through a plowed field, tearing through three fences enroute. Next it crashed into an overhead sprinkling system, creating a mild rain storm. The traveling driverless automobile after barging through a fourth fence, finally came to rest in a duck pond amidst loud quacks of protest from the ducks, to say nothing of the sizzling comments of the duck pond's owner, Joe Handy, 434 North Coast boulevard.

Fortunately it was not the time of day for the ducks to be cavorting in the pond, and there were no lives lost.

FORM AVOCADO COMMITTEE

An Orange county project for formation of a state-wide avocado committee was taking definite shape today. The committee will devote itself to solution of tariff and standardization problems, assistance in developing improved varieties of fruit, and pest control.

Delegates from San Diego, Orange, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, and Ventura counties were forming the committee today at a meeting in the Los Angeles county farm bureau offices. Orange county's delegates are Howard Gardner of Orange, chairman of the farm bureau avocado department, and Ray Frantz of La Habra, chairman last year.

Formation of the statewide committee was authorized at the last convention of the state farm bureau at Santa Cruz. The project was brought about largely through the efforts of Mr. Gardner, Mr. Frantz, F. D. Halm of La Habra, and Cecil Marks, of Newport road. Today's meeting was called by Alex Johnson, secretary of the state farm bureau.

Distribution of electricity to the consumer in Sweden's rural areas is accomplished, in most cases, by a cooperative association which buys the current from the producers.

Fire on Vessel Is Extinguished

Four Santa Ana High school girls narrowly escaped death yesterday afternoon when the car in which they were riding became involved in a collision with another machine at Coast boulevard and Poppy street, Corona Del Mar. According to a report on file in the Newport Beach police department, the car in which the four girls were riding was driven by Kenneth Aiken, 521 North McClay street, Santa Ana. The second car was driven by Bob Oviatt, 30, San Diego.

The injured girls are Norma Battle, 2041 North Main street; Genevieve Campbell, 918 Lacy street; Doris Morilla, 1310 Pointsettia street, and Ellen Neal, 130 Cypress street. They were brought to the Santa Ana Valley hospital for treatment. This morning Miss Battle still was confined at the hospital, while the other three had been sent home.

According to eye-witnesses, two of the girls were riding on the front fenders of the car when the other machine crashed into the rear of Aiken's car. The Santa Ana car turned over several times.

Two items of interest were announced yesterday, one being negotiations for the purchase of KFVD by J. F. Burke. Here in Santa Ana Mr. Burke is known as "J. Frank," but in the California Broadcaster, Los Angeles, he is referred to as "Judge" Burke.

This is the second recall petition to be started against the judge, an Associated Press dispatch said today. The first in 1934 was voted on, with 1915 voting against the recall and 1405 voting for recalling him.

Orange county farmers and their wives were in a dither today. They wanted to know if there will be a husband or wife calling contest at the annual farm bureau picnic to be staged at Irvine park May 16.

Committees arranging the program were announced today by H. J. Hinrichs, chairman for the picnic. There has been no decision on the question of a calling contest. Last year the husbands called their wives. The year before the wives called their husbands. What will it be this year?

Working with Mr. Hinrichs will be Assistant Farm Advisor W. M. Cory; Miss Frances Liles, home demonstration agent; Mrs. Linnartz, 4-H club department; Mrs.

Observations
Sledge Discharged
Pitchers' Battle

Purely personal observations: Joe Di Maggio, the Coast league kid who went up to the New York Yankees, is going to be the Babe Ruth of his generation—and the salvation of the recently tottering New Yorkers. Press praise already heaped upon him features billing when the Yankee swing into action for keeps. If he performs up to expectations—and predictions—he will be just as famous and as valuable as George Herman Ruth was in his hey-day.

Some believe there never will be another Babe Ruth, and maybe they're right. But if ever a youngster had a chance to fill the Babe's man-sized shoes, that boy is Joe Di Maggio.

Lee Ramage is going to find the comeback trail an uphill one. Not the least of Lee's worries is that he is attempting to change his style from a dancer to a slugger, and even under the expert tutelage of Pop Foster that is a very large order. We don't pretend to know whether his 10-round draw was indicative of a dull or bright future for the San Diego fighter. The Kingfish, so the big town writers indicate, is too often just plain lousy.

Wait Collins, hustling new secretary of the Orange County night league, reports that Huntington Beach definitely will be in the circuit this year—but the decision was reached only after a previous move to drop out of the circuit this year. One telephone call to Wait's house in the afternoon said the answer was "no", another while Wait was out watching the Olive-Irvine struggle, said the decision was definitely "yes".

Meanwhile President Vic Ruedy reports chances are extremely good that Anaheim will have a squad in the running this year. Vic wants Fullerton to hook up, too, but things do not look so bright there. City wants Anaheim to have a city league-county league-national league set up. Hope he gets it.

Wrestler Bill Sledge, crushed by Man Mountain Dean's rumble seat Monday night, was discharged from St. Joseph's hospital yesterday afternoon. If Bill wrestles in Long Beach tonight he will be a better man than most of us.

Turning our back on what scoffers (who weren't even there) say about the battle that sent Sledge into a hospital cot, we claim that to know the truth one had only to gaze at Bill's face as they lifted him onto a stretcher, or tell his oysteredump hand as they wheeled him toward the ambulance.

Despite the new pitching distance (37 1/2 ft.), which will make our cherished night ball less of a "pitcher's game" than before, two understudy hurlers are going to play a very large part in this year's National league race.

They are, if you haven't already guessed it, Lyle Morse of Santa Ana and Russ Coggins of Huntington Beach.

Indications are the hunt will be hotter perhaps even than last year, when Santa Ana's most crying need was for someone to stop Jimmie Coates effectively. We seem to have him in Lyle Morse, a boy who is chucking what appears to be the brand of ball that will keep the Stars right on the heels of Joe Rodgers' Oilers.

Joe is mighty hepped up about Coggins and will use him regularly to give Lyle Neva vacations from the mound—which should make Neva more dangerous than ever.

BUDGE, GRANT GIVEN DAVIS CUP JOBS

Allison Assigns Pair to Play Singles After Losing to Bitsy

WILMER ALLISON Took a beating, gave a job.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 8. (AP)—Wilmer Allison, captain of the United States Davis cup team for the matches against Mexico, today assigned Bryan M. Grant and Don Budge to play the singles matches after they had wrecked his title hopes in the River Oaks tennis tournament.

Grant won his second consecutive River Oaks championship yesterday by defeating the 1935 national champion, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4, 6-0. It was the first time in years that Allison had dropped the decisive set of a match without winning a game.

Hopeful of salvaging at least a share of the doubles championship, the Texan then teamed with John Van Ryn against Budge and Gene Mako, but the colorful young Californians provided too much competition. They won, 6-3, 6-3.

The performances of Grant and Budge convinced Captain Allison that they were qualified to handle the singles in the Davis Cup matches with Mexico, opening here Friday. Allison and Van Ryn will play the doubles.

ACORNS KEEP COAST LEAD

By the Associated Press
They didn't look so hot in Oakland last week, but so far as Walter Beck is concerned, the Los Angeles batters are as mighty as ever.

The Mission hurler made his third try of the season to win a Pacific Coast league ball game last night, and lasted just five innings against the flying Angel bats. The Angels won, 12-4, pounding three Red moundsmen for 16 hits, while Clyde Lahti, a youngster from south western Washington, allowed 8.

Catcher John Hebert started Beck's downfall with a homer in the second with one man on.

The Mission defeat and the usual error from Sid Stringfellow, Sacramento shortstop, shifted Seattle into second place in club standings and into third in the A league. Wally Hebert, San Diego southpaw, allowed San Francisco 12 hits, but the Padres broke their five-game losing streak with a 2-1 win. Hebert drove in Vince DiMaggio for the first Padre score.

The standings:

Oakland 8 2 .800
Seattle 7 3 .700
San Francisco 6 4 .600
San Diego 5 5 .500

MORSE MAKES STARS BRIGHTER

LYLE BAFFLES S. B. IN 3-3 DRAW HERE

Understudy for Coates Fans 11 Batters in Exhibition Tilt

By PAUL WRIGHT
Nightball addicts were more thoroughly convinced today of the sound reason behind George Lackey's public prediction that Lyle Morse will make a name for himself in National league night ball during '36.

Drawing the assignment because of Jimmy Coates' temporary illness, the raven-haired Morse fanned exactly 11 rivals while pitching six innings of a 3-3 draw with San Bernardino at the Municipal bowl last night.

The slow-moving exhibition between the National and American league nines was called around 11 o'clock—after the tenth inning—at the request of San Bernardino's Stubbys, who didn't reach home until after midnight.

Fowler Looks Good
Venn Botts, slender specialist who chucked Colton to the American league crown last summer, played second, fiddling to Santa Ana's surprising Morse, and even had most of his thunder stolen from him by a southpaw teammate—Bob Fowler.

Fowler, who temporarily "jumped" San Bernardino for a fling with the San Joaquin Valley league's Hanford champions, for whom he won 15 out of 16 games last season, celebrated his return by mowing down eight Stars on strike-outs from the sixth to the tenth inning. He let the Lackey lads off with only three hits—all infield singles.

Veteran Botts left the ceremonies with the count 3-0 against him after the fifth. "The run-making, however, was not all his own fault. In fact, all three counters were of the "gift" variety.

Rebottin His Double
Clarence (Nan) Coates, heaviest first-sacker, gained first on Botts' fumble of a slow grounder to the pitcher's box in the first, and the formidable Al Rebottin brought him home with a two-bagger to center.

Koral walked, advanced to center on a pair of wild pitches, and scored on Rod Ballard's sizzling double to right-center in the second. Ballard reached third on Morse's infield hit, and scored when Kramer juggled Ray (Doc) Smith's grounder to short, for Santa Ana's other run in the same inning.

San Bernardino scored first on Botts' walk and Strano's double off Morse in the sixth. George Stevens yielded the other two runs on clean hits in the seventh and eighth.

COCHRANE SAYS 'PAR' EASY

Tigers Unafraid of Indians

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
AUGUSTA, Ga., April 8. — Mickey Cochrane, a fair saxophone player, a good golfer but a great pitcher, isn't worried this spring about the law of averages.

"I'm sorry to see that so great a champion as Bob Jones could not come through with the old-time stuff," said Mickey after spending an idle day here as rain washed out both the exhibition games involving his world champion Detroit Tigers and the finals of the Augusta National golf tournament.

"I know they say it's tough to come back and tougher to stay on top, but you can't blame me for thinking the Tigers will stay up there."

Third Pennant Easiest
"Maybe it will be harder going for us this year, with at least four other clubs in the American League considerably stronger, but I'm not worried at the outlook now. The third pennant was the easiest when I was with the Athletics."

It was suggested that the Cleveland Indians, victims of bad breaks for the past two years, figured to benefit from the law of averages and perhaps be "the club to beat."

"Who can tell?" answered Mike. "I think we can beat par for the course again," he grinned.

Oscar Becomes Very Sad As Beatem, Riskitt Lose

By OSCAR OATS
As for Mr. Riskitt, he did even worse, losing $141.40, but his bank-roll is up to $1893.30. Borsodi, in the eighth was his only horse, netting him $33.60 for a $25 bet when he came in second. Louie. But come home anyway. Think of the tote board. So far you boys have bet $4225, and the tote board has collected only $507, which is steady but not sensational. It will never catch you at least not this season, unless Beatem goes nuts.

There's always another race. I'm glad you left your pickings for tomorrow, but come home, you loons. We forgive you and we like to hear your silly talk. Yours, OSCAR. P. S. to my great public: Here is how they pick 'em for today, at $10, $5, $5 per nag. 'Stoo bad. Riskitt: Blind Sage, Dow B. Black Minnie, Torobang, Tyne-mouth, Seguro, Pass Up, Happy Hunter.

Beatem's long shots: Denbich, Rotherham, Lapland, Sophist, Lookout Below, American Emblem, His Way, Brilliant Duke.

FLYERS TRIM ELKS; OILER NINE WINS

Westminster Scores 3-1 Triumph; Huntington Beach Swamps Bank

Westminster of the National league bested Santa Ana's Elks of the City league, 3 to 1, and Huntington Beach's Southern California champions, with Louie Neva and Russ Coggins on the mound, plastered the First National bankers of Santa Ana, 23 to 3, in warmup nightball tussles last night. The games were played at Westminster and Huntington Beach.

Gen. Hitt, manager of the First Nationals, yielded only six hits while pitching the final four innings against the Oilers, but his regular chucker, Ralph Myhrne, was touched for 12.

First-Baseman Bob Smith of Huntington Beach blasted a home run, tied the game, and hit in five times to the plate, and Manager Joe Rodgers smacked a homer during the festivities. Coggins toiled the first four innings, fanning five. The great Neva worked the last five, fanning eight.

The Westminster-Elks' game was a puzzling duel between Elwyn (Fuzzy) Errington and Gil Yorba for the Aviators, Roy Stout and Armand Hanson for the Elks. The B. P. O. E. performs at Irvine Friday night. Huntington Beach plays San Bernardino at Colton tomorrow night.

OILERS REMAIN IN B LEAGUE

Reconsidering an earlier decision to remain inactive a year, Huntington Beach again will be represented in the Orange County Class B Night Ball league, it was learned today from Wait Collins, secretary-treasurer.

Five teams are definitely in the 1936 fold—Olive's champions, Brea, Irvine, San Juan Capistrano and Huntington Beach. Norwalk and Whittier, clubs outside the county, are said to be interested, but it is doubtful whether they will be admitted because of opposition from Irvine and Capistrano officials, it is said. Vic Ruedy, president, hopes to have eight teams ready to go to the post next month.

Mrs. Let Shot After Track Spill

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8. (AP)—Two jockeys were in a San Francisco hospital today with serious injuries incurred in a three-horse spill at Tanforan race track yesterday.

Leo Josephson's collarbone was broken and R. E. King suffered contusions about the head and possible concussion of the brain.

Basil James, leading jockey at the track and rider of the first horse to go down, escaped with a severe shaking up. He insisted the accident was unavoidable. He said Mrs. Let, running in third position in the eighth race, crossed her legs and went down when he attempted to pull her up because she was boxed.

Bourbon Whiskey crashed into Mrs. Let, unseating Josephson. Prince Pharaoh, hit behind, went down on his knees, spilling King.

Mrs. Let, a 5-year-old mare owned by W. E. Brown of San Francisco, was destroyed last night.

A few hours before the accident James' contract was sold for $5000 to H. H. Cross of Virginia, who will take him to Kentucky.

Ferris Wall Hits Long Homer; Hillers Play Here on May 1

Wildier than a March hare, Jimmy (Snokey) Wilkins had no one but himself to blame today for the sound thrashing San Diego High school's Southland champions gave Santa Ana's Saints, 13 to 5, in Coast Prep league baseball at San Diego yesterday. Thirteen league seasons have passed without a Saint triumph over San Diego's perennial swatsmiths, who have compiled 171 runs to Santa Ana's 27 during the uninterrupted span.

Few Earned Runs
The unexpected ineffectiveness of Clyde Cook's pitching pride, who walked the alarming total of eight Hillers, was directly responsible for the one-sided score. Barring Wilkins' free passes, which came when they could be converted into runs, San Diego probably would have won only 6 to 2. Wilkins' wildness was due partially to a slightly sore arm.

It took only three hits to produce five runs for Mike Morrow's king-pins in the third. Three walks and a single by Rivas, third baseman, sent three Hillers scurrying home in the fourth.

Catcher Ferris Wall, southpaw swinger, poled a long fly into deep right-center for a home run and Santa Ana's most effective punch in the fourth. Wall crossed the pan with two of the Saints' five runs.

San Diego was not so far ahead of the Saints on hits, 10 to 7. The Southern's grass infield bothered Santa Ana about as much as Skelly's pitching. The infielders did not come in fast enough on grounders, slowed up considerably by the grass.

Anaheim Monday
It will not be considered a ridiculous wager that the Cookmen will upset the Hillers at Poly field May 1. San Diego, however, will be favored again.

The Saints return to action in a non-league clash with Anaheim's potent nines at Anaheim Monday.

JUST THREE DAYS UNTIL JOURNAL-KVOE BIG EASTER EGG HUNT

PAY'N TAKIT IS DONATING THE EGGS

Event for Kids Will Be Saturday Morning in Municipal Bowl

Some of you young 'uns probably eat your soft-boiled eggs in a bowl these mornings, but we bet you never saw so many eggs in one bowl as you'll see Saturday, or so big a bowl, either.

The Pay'n Takit stores are going to put literally thousands of luscious candy Easter eggs in every nook and cranny of the stadium for you to test your hunting ability on, so get out your Dan Dunn and Dickie Dare books and read up on how to do it.

Lots of Prizes, Too

There's plenty of reason for wanting to find a lot of those swell eggs. Not only are they as good candy as you ever bit into, but among them will be hundreds of "lucky" eggs. And for every lucky egg there's a special prize.

We'll just run over that list of prizes again, in the Journal-KVOE Easter egg hunt of 1936:

Here's the List

Two pairs of roller skates from the Famous Department store.

A Wahl 14-karat gold point fountain pen, an Eastman Baby Brownie Kodak, two loose-leaf scrap books, and a school loose-leaf notebook, from Stein's Stationery store.

A Mickey Mouse pocket watch and a vanity compact from the Asher Jewelry company.

Two pairs of new shoes from Montgomery Ward.

Five Goodrich toy wagons from the Goodrich Tire and Rubber company.

And Theater Tickets

Free theater tickets from the Fox West Coast theaters.

Ice cream surprises from the Excelsior Creamery company.

Giant mints from the Main Malt shop.

And thousands of candy Easter eggs.

What do you think? Doesn't that sound like fun? Be sure

Carbondale Just Ghost Today of the Vigorous Mining Town of Long Ago

(In an effort to acquaint residents of Orange county with some of their most-prized historic possessions, The Journal is publishing a series of daily articles on county landmarks. These articles will describe their location and give historical facts concerning them. Today's article tells about Carbondale, once lively mining town.—Editor.)

Carbondale, like Silverado, is nothing but the ghost today of the vigorous mining town it used to be in the late seventies and eighties. Both places are officially recorded with the state as historic landmarks of Orange county.

Silverado was located at the forks where Pine canyon enters Silverado canyon, and Carbondale was in the same region. In 1878 coal was discovered in the hills where Carbondale soon developed into a mining town. The original operators were later replaced when it was discovered that the mine was on property which belonged to the Southern Pacific railroad. Coal

A special Easter sunrise service will be given in the chapel of Melrose Abbey for the benefit of those who may not be able to attend outdoor services.

An impressive program is being arranged and sponsored by the Trinity Episcopal church of Orange, under the direction of Myra Armstrong, choir director. The Rev. John A. Shirley, pastor, will deliver the Easter address.

The program will begin at 5 a. m., with a group of organ numbers by Mrs. Merrill Bauer, to be followed at sunrise with a quartet of trumpeters under the direction of Leland Auer. The musical program and address by the Rev. Mr. Shirley will follow.

CANCEL TAX ON COAST TRACT

Assessments against the Skidmore tract, in Coast Royal, amounting to $1020, were cancelled yesterday by order of the board of supervisors, on the grounds that the property, two seaside lots, belonged to the county, and have belonged to the county since 1926.

The tract was deeded to the county in 1926 for park purposes, but due to some mistake in the assessment rolls, tax assessments against the property were directed against C. G. Seamans, E. L. Crawford and A. J. Lasby, Coast Royal.

This fact, and the fact that no taxes had ever been paid on the property, was discovered six months ago, when a delegation of property owners called on the board to protest that they were being kept from the property by representations that the three men had a title claim to the property, through the tax assessment.

The fact that no taxes had been paid allowed the county to clarify the title situation by making out a bill for the total amount, and then cancelling it. The tract is a part of the Coast Royal public beach, and will be used as such in the future.

Licenses Granted Pest Workmen

Licenses for 55 pest control operators and 17 pest control foremen to work in Orange county under the direction of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service were granted yesterday afternoon by the board of supervisors on request of County Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs.

WENDEL STILL IS HELD IN TRENTON

TRENTON, N. J., April 8. (AP)—Officials indicated today there were no immediate prospects that Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton attorney, held on a charge of murdering Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., would be released.

Prosecutor Erwin E. Marshall said the grand jury's failure yesterday to consider the Wendel case left the murder charge still on the books, and prevented Wendel's removal—except by court order—to Brooklyn to assist in locating the house where he said he was held a prisoner, and forced to make a false confession to the crime.

The prosecutor said he could not tell "what might happen to Wendel," and one of the jurors, on leaving the session, remarked: "We're all up in the air." The jury will reconvene next Tuesday.

The New Jersey legislature, which thought it had disposed of all the moves for an investigation of the Bruno Richard Hauptmann case by defeating two resolutions Monday night, may have to vote on the proposal again Monday.

Assemblyman Basil B. Bruno announced he would introduce a resolution calling for an investigation of the case from "start to finish," including the activities of Gov. Harold G. Hoffman, Attorney General David T. Wilentz and the state police.

SAN RAFAEL, April 8. (AP)—The body of J. Harold Dollar, vice president of the steamship company founded by his father, the late Robert Dollar, lay in state today as mourners paid last respects.

THEODORE A. HUNTLEY

(By The Associated Press)

Theodore A. Huntley cast his first vote for "T. R." in the Bull Moose campaign. Now he is engaged in bending all his energies to defeating "F. D."

He is director of publicity at Republican national headquarters. His job demands he direct the trend of propaganda going out to newspapers, that he edit the handbooks being prepared on campaign issues, that he know just what the party's campaigners are doing and where.

This is the first national campaign in which he has taken an active part, but he has covered many of them as a Washington newspaperman, and he helped direct state campaigns for former Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania, for whom he was secretary.

Huntley is a small, reserved person whose conversation crackles. He seems to enjoy his 14-hour working day.

BEGIN PROBE OF AIR LINE TRAGEDY

(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 8. (AP)—The words of a tiny heroine and the twisted dial of a shattered instrument board told the tale today of the TWA Sun Racer's end—11 dead and three hurt.

A group of investigators trudged up the highest mountain in western Pennsylvania to check over the wreckage of the big TWA transport which plowed through a rock-strewn woods yesterday.

Then they turned to listen to the experiences of the three survivors.

Eleven burned and broken bodies were taken to a morgue for relatives to claim them. The ship caught fire after the wreck.

Nellie Granger, hostess on the California-bound Sun Racer, was the heroine of the disaster. Although injured herself, she stumbled miles through the underbrush to a forest warden's home.

There she telephoned the news and insisted on going back to remain with the two injured until help came. Hours later she told the story of how the unsuspecting passengers hurried to their deaths.

Stopped watches on two of the dead convinced Lieut. George Pickering of the highway patrol and Coroner S. A. Baltz that the tragedy occurred at 10:20 a. m. Ten minutes earlier Pilot Ferguson, en route from Newark, N. J., radioed he was flying through thick weather by his instruments and would not land at Pittsburgh.

Jack Frye, president of Transcontinental Airways, said in New York the Sun Racer was flying on a special radio beam but was 50 miles off its course.

Frye said that about the time of the crash another TWA plane, eastbound, was delayed in landing because of interruption of a radio course beam for interspersions of weather reports. He said without further information he could not say whether a beam interruption could have contributed to the wreck.

The commerce department in Washington said, however, a check on beacons by an air commerce bureau pilot showed them to be "accurate and functioning."

Here is good news! G. C. Griffin is back in Santa Ana.

Mr. Griffin is one of the oldest used car men in this locality, and comes home to accept the general management of the used car lots of the L. D. Coffing Co., located at their main plant at Fifth and Spurgeon streets, and their new one just opened at Fourth and Ross streets. Mr. Griffin needs no introduction to the automobile public; his reputation for square dealing and best of merchandise obtainable is well known. We wish him success.

Everything is certainly moving around and around down on East Fifth street at the L. D. Coffing company's plant, distributors of Dodge automobiles and trucks and Plymouth cars. A special department devoted to the sale of Plymouth automobiles has been launched and will be under the guiding hand of that old, well known fast-moving personage, no other than Eddie Dolan, himself. Mr. Dolan has had many years of experience in this field of labor and is favorably known not only in Santa Ana but throughout the county. Due to his pleasant personality he numbers his friends by his acquaintance, and Otto Rowe predicts a success for the new department from its inception.

George Dunton and Ben Heflinger were recently in Los Angeles to attend a two-day Lincoln-Zephyr service school. These schools have been held throughout the country by 34 Ford branches. Each of approximately 1,000 Lincoln-Zephyr dealerships in the United States now has a trained mechanic.

MOTOR CHIEF PLANS SCHOOLS TO CURB WRECKS

INGELS SAYS TRUCK MEN CAREFUL

SACRAMENTO, April 8. (AP)—Ray Ingels, director of motor vehicles, is endeavoring to have communities establish traffic schools in order to reduce traffic accidents.

He said operators of trucks employed by many California industries are forcing their drivers to attend traffic schools with the result that drivers of commercial vehicles are among the safest and most careful.

"Although motorists are in the habit of cursing trucks," said Ingels, "when they are cornered they will admit the cursing is aimed at the bulk of the conveyance and not at the operator of the truck, who nine times out of 10 is more courteous to fellow highway users than is the pleasure car driver."

"Furthermore, the hand signals required by law are not a forgotten art with the truck driver who recognizes that the other fellow's life more than his own is in danger when warnings of highway maneuvers are not made."

"It is not too much to say that if the owners of pleasure cars would co-operate one-tenth as much with the department and its highway patrol officers as do the operators of trucks, accidents could be reduced to the minimum in the state."

"The rapid runner in which truck owners equipped their vehicles with reflectors, warning signs and flares, as demanded by the last legislature, is an outstanding indication that the commercial interest using our highways are determined to see their share to prevent injury and loss of life," he concluded.

S. B. County Wins Anti-Death Drive
SACRAMENTO, April 8. (AP)—Santa Barbara county's work in reducing traffic deaths on rural highways won the state chamber of commerce trophy for its highway patrol unit. Deaths last year were 24 less than in 1934. In Los Angeles county, there were 36 more fatalities than during 1934.

Fifth and Bush streets, pointed out to Otto Rowe that more people are killed each year in accidents than were killed in the World war. Approximately 55,000 Americans were killed during the 18 months of the war and last year in this country more than 99,000 people were killed in traffic accidents. That makes an average of 271 persons every day, 11 every hour, or one every six minutes. Think it over.

SHELL AIDS IN SAFETY DRIVE

Is traffic awful? Is driving dangerous? "No!" is the thundering answer from hundreds of men whose enviable safety records cover millions of miles of driving. Safety suggestions which have helped them avoid trouble are simple and easy enough for any motorist to follow.

"More than 2200 Shell truck drivers soon will receive certificates of honor from Shell Oil company for perfect safety records in 1935. Many of these men have perfect safety records extending back seven years to the time when Shell began one of the first safety movements organized in the West. Their unofficial records for safe driving run as high as 10, 15, and even 18 years," said Selwyn Eddy, division manager for the company.

Shell has been a leader in safety work for many years and every Shell driver undergoes a thorough training in safety, courtesy and service before he is allowed to represent the company on streets and highways. This training has been the foundation of the fine records made in safe driving by Shell employees at a time when automobile accidents and fatalities have been increasing steadily.

"The chief thing in safe driving is to remember that the other fellow also has a right to the road," says N. H. Wulff of Santa Ana, who has driven Shell equipment for 13 years with a perfect safety record. "I believe most accidents happen when a driver tries to take advantage of the other fellow, either by cutting in unfairly or by taking more of the road than he is entitled to."

Ford Puts Edison Relies on Exhibit At San Diego Fair
A collection of original models and inventions of Thomas A. Edison, for the most part never before exhibited except in Henry Ford's Edison Museum in Dearborn, Mich., is attracting considerable attention. It is said, in the Progress of Electricity building at the California Pacific International Exposition in San Diego.

From Dearborn, where Edison's Menlo Park laboratory has been reconstructed as it was in the days when Edison worked countless hours to perfect his many inventions, have come 23 interesting originals and reproductions, among them the Edison tinfoil phonograph, invented by the wizard in 1877.

Another of the interesting inventions in the exhibit is the Edison flat bed mimeograph. Developed by Edison in 1887 to copy many forms of written material, it was without doubt the simplest and most economical substitute for the electric pen, also an Edison invention.

Consultation Without Cost On Any Job

GORDON BUYS AGENCY HERE FROM REID

An important announcement affecting the automotive business in Santa Ana was released today by Robert E. Reid, who has held the Buick agency since 1922. He has sold the business to W. R. Gordon, who has been with the Reid Motor company for 12 years, seven years as a salesman and the last five years as manager. Mr. Reid retires after a long and successful business career in Santa Ana, and expresses his sincere appreciation for the patronage extended to him, throughout Orange county.

The new ownership goes to a man thoroughly familiar with the Buick automobile and the Buick trade. Mr. Gordon will continue to operate under the present incorporated Reid Motor company. He also will continue the same personnel, which is familiar with every detail of the business. The local Buick agency is now enjoying the best year in the history of the organization, and it is the intention of the new management not only to hold the high place that Buick has established in the confidence of the automobile public, but to strive for higher attainment.

In Santa Ana W. R. Gordon is probably more familiarly known as "Stormy" Gordon, but he says the name will not interfere with the service, unless it is to make it better. He will welcome all of the Reid Motor company patrons, and also new ones.

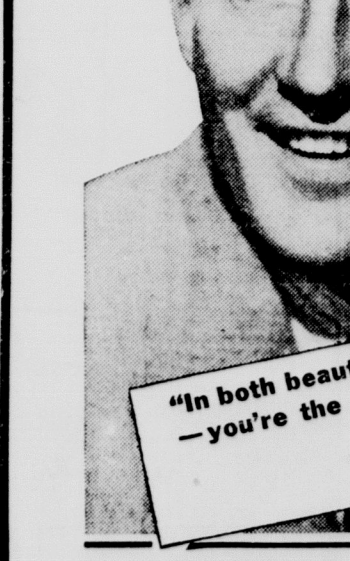

"The month of April will see a new factory production peak for 1936 of 16,645 units, which is an increase of approximately 2000 cars over that originally planned for the month," said Mr. Gordon, in referring to the heavy retail demand for Buick motors. "The turn of spring business is fulfilling our best expectations, and visitors to our showrooms are delighted with the automotive comfort and stability of the cars."

Chrysler and Plymouth Demand Is Heavy Here

"I knew that the public was sold on the new 1936 Chrysler and Plymouth cars, but I never expected the large number of units that have been sold here in Orange county and throughout the nation, as shown by records reaching my desk the first of this month," Otto R. Haan, distributor of Chrysler and Plymouth automobiles, located at 505 South Main street, said today.

"J. F. Frazer, vice president of the sales division of the Chrysler corporation, predicted that business would boom as soon as the severe winter weather back East would let up and give the auto user a chance to become car-minded. His prediction has come true, as in the week ending March 14, Chrysler dealers delivered more Chrysler cars at retail than in any week since July of last year. Plymouth deliveries by dealers also were high, the figures being the best since last November, when the 1936 line was introduced and shown for the first time. For the last three weeks, Chrysler dealers have shown an average increase of from 20 to 25 per cent in retail deliveries over each preceding week.

"Locally, we are expecting 1936 to be the best year in the history of this old automobile house, not even excepting 1929, when the records reached a high peak."

Mr. Crosby could well afford to purchase even the most expensive cars. Yet read what he says about his new Dodge:

"Am I enthusiastic about my new Dodge! Well, just show me another car that's so beautiful to look at and so economical to drive!"

Begin Campaign Monday on Cars with Old Licenses

"Please do not call at the Orange county offices of the California highway patrol in relation to ownership certificates that have not been received, until after the first of next week."

This request was made today by Capt. Henry C. Meehan, of the county branch of the highway patrol.

The registration slips are being mailed from Sacramento this week, and should be in Santa Ana before next Monday. After that time, if automobile owners have still failed to receive their registration certificates, this office will be glad to take the matter up for them with the Sacramento headquarters of the highway patrol.

Captain Meehan today received orders from E. Raymond Cato, chief of the highway patrol, to make preparations for the arrest of all persons driving cars not displaying 1936 license plates.

Next Monday, highway patrol officers will start an active campaign to enforce the law governing the operation of cars without new plates, Captain Meehan said.

It is possible that license plates have been issued to persons who have not as yet received them, it was pointed out by Chief Cato. If such be the case, it is explainable by one of four things: Either the applicant has given an incorrect address; has changed his address after applying for renewal of license; has sent in an application involving transfer and improper fees sent the division of motor vehicles; or in the case of a non-resident, additional papers for clearance are still due.

Science Makes Present-Day Motor Cars Comfortable

By GARRY GARROWAY
of the Truck Department of L. D. Coffing Co., Distributors of Dodge Trucks for Orange County

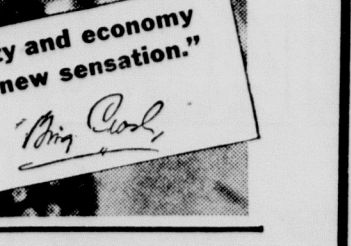

Science has contributed materially to the comfort of our present-day automobiles. With cleverly designed instruments, they can now determine the degree of impairment of the human functions from fatigue after riding or driving for long periods of time. Manufacturers now have available data to plan and build, to reduce to a minimum discomfort and fatigue, and the changes that have been made in the last few years in design and construction have been influenced by the ever increasing demand of the public for comfort.

New types of springs, tires and wheels have reduced road shock to a minimum, vastly improved steering mechanism has taken away the tiring strain of arm and hand in steering. Easy shifting transmissions and softer pedal touch brakes have lessened physical exertion.

Monoxide Gas Blamed for Many Auto Crack-ups
LOS ANGELES, April 8. (AP)—Carbon monoxide—causing drowsiness, headaches and even death—is the source of many traffic accidents attributed to drink, says Capt. Leonard B. Kennedy of the California Highway Patrol.

With an insurance company investigator, Captain Kennedy tested trucks plying the Ridge route. Three per cent of the closed cabs collected a lethal amount of carbon monoxide in four to six hours. Fifteen per cent held enough to cause unconsciousness in the same period. Sixty per cent were found to be safe, Captain Kennedy said.

New Equipment Put in at Grand Central Garage

The Grand Central garage at 107 North Sycamore street has the "Bee Line" on all car drivers in Santa Ana, according to Charles Cramer. Frank Hammel has just installed for them there some of the very latest equipment in testing cars. With this new "Bee Line" equipment they will now be able to more accurately test and check steering mechanism and also frame alignment.

George McConnell, co-partner at the Grand Central garage, says that the equipment, to his knowledge, is the latest and only one of its kind in Santa Ana. This rounds out the equipment at the garage and makes it one of the most complete in Orange county. The motor analyzers which were installed some months ago have proved to be a great help to motorists in quickly finding trouble zones in their cars.

OLD CARS SOLD FOR NEW, IS CLAIM

SACRAMENTO, April 8. (AP)—State motor vehicle director Ray Ingels reported some used car dealers of Los Angeles have been selling as new some 300 cars which had been extensively driven "in the east" some of which had been wrecked and rebuilt.

All these things are the result of scientific research, built into your car to give you one thing only—comfort. Truly, the value received for your automobile dollar is honest value. What industry can or does offer more?

MRS. CHAS. GEORGE GOES TO OKLAHOMA

Called by word of the critical illness of her mother, Mrs. S. J. Bailey of Geary, Okla., Mrs. Charles George of Garden Grove left last night by train for Geary.

Mrs. George, president of the Garden Grove Women's Civic club, is the mother of Mrs. William B. Humphrey of Santa Ana. She plans a brief stop in Texas and will reach Oklahoma Friday morning.

"Iris never had seen a platinum blonde before, except in a movie. Sigrid's naturally yellow hair had been almost silver; her brows and lashes had been done with the conventional mascara. Aunt Ella would have called her 'actressy,' except for her quick forthright manner of gesture and manner."

"Where is Mrs. Russell?" Iris asked to break the moment's tension.

"Oh, she isn't staying," Phina said.

"I do not think she will ever be worth the trouble Miss Phina put upon her," Sigrid said.

She had no foreign accent, but a slight inaccuracy about the proper valuation of words and the right elisions. Her intonations were a little flat and vaguely wrong, also—but it was not intangible that Iris could only feel that it was a pity one flaw marred the girl's

Miracle Man Misses

THERE were more than a few of us, amateurs in finance and economics, who hoped perhaps even against hope that Premier Aberhart of Alberta could and would pull a fine white kicking rabbit out of his hat.

And now the word comes from our neighbor across the world's greatest unfortified international border that the plump premier and his province must default on a maturing bond issue—first time in Canadian history.

Without attempting to say that Premier Aberhart's plan has had a fair test, or that it would or would not work out if tested fully and fairly, nevertheless we same amateurs can't help having a hunch that there's something phoney involved.

We've pretty well learned that money is money, or a medium of exchange is a medium of exchange, only when its value is set by labor or goods in its very first transaction after leaving the printing press—in other words, the old principle of value received.

Germany proved for all time that ink and paper don't make real money, no matter how much you print of it without that background of "value received" in services or goods.

Alberta's noble experiment to date seems at least to indicate strongly that a political subdivision can't divide up wealth it doesn't possess.

And the thought occurs that out of the stress and strain of this growing-pain period in national and world history, we're learning some basic truths that we won't have to keep learning over and over with each succeeding flurry or storm in economic affairs.

If we learn that money is merely a token of symbolizing the value of work already done, of products already on the shelf in the shape of buildings, railroads, water pipes laid, clothes on our backs, and whatnot else, that will be a lesson worth paying a considerable price for.

Learning that will let us understand why even a great government such as ours cannot finance itself with nice fresh money printed without stint, but must use the dollars already "made" by the sweat of men's brows—even if it has to borrow them.

Premier Aberhart tells those who believe that money is not wealth but a mere symbol of labor performed, that they "do not understand" his plan.

Perhaps the premier, a good and kindly soul, is the one who does not understand.

Gertrude Stein says war should not come in Europe, and therefore will. Or, to put it in her own words, war won't come war will come won't.

A National Health Program

THE UNITED STATES will become a far healthier nation if Dr. Thomas Parran, jr., President Roosevelt's new appointee as surgeon general, is able to carry out his program. Dr. Parran proposes—

1. To finish the job of wiping out tuberculosis.
2. To wipe out social disease, the results of which "crowd our jails, our poorhouses and our insane asylums."
3. To make available to people everywhere facilities for the proper diagnosis and treatment of cancer, which in Dr. Parran's opinion would reduce by 20 per cent the deaths from this disease.

4. To reduce the "disgracefully high" death rates of mothers in childbirth and of babies in their first month of life.
5. To correct the conditions resulting from improper diet.
6. To restore crippled children to lives of usefulness.

Good health is something that cannot be purchased. The poorest man would not sell his health for money, and the richest man would give his gold for health. A successful conclusion to Dr. Parran's program would mean more to human happiness than all of the so-called economic panaceas yet devised.

Premier Goemboes and another Hungarian politician fought a duel—but both missed. That kind of duelling is hard on the country.

A Symbolical Park

THE COMMENDABLE landscape and recreational area development now under way at Irvine park illustrates what can be done to benefit the public as a whole when government work relief funds are intelligently and ably expended.

Every dollar that goes into making this wonderful natural park more useful and available will be of permanent value to the people of Orange county and the rest of Southern California.

Irvine park is a living monument to the generous citizen who gave the site, to the public officials who planned the developments, to the taxpayers who share in the cost of its upkeep. It is a practical illustration of that fine cooperative spirit upon which we must depend more and more to solve civilization's problems.

Budgets Can Be Balanced

THE FACT that the City of Santa Ana has balanced its budget—and even has a tidy little surplus—shows that budget balancing need not be a lost art in governmental circles.

We respectfully suggest that national and state leaders who have piled up staggering deficits—about 30 billion dollars for the nation and 80 million for the state—take a lesson in political finance from Santa Ana's municipal executives and employees.

The principle of a balanced budget is the same, whether for a family, a business firm, a city, or the richest nation on earth. It's simply this: Don't spend more than your income.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

There is a fascination about those names that make us wonder if they are patents of nobility—or just names.

O. O. McIntyre

There is a fascination about those names that make us wonder if they are patents of nobility—or just names. For instance, as King Vidor, Duke Ellington, Baron Wilkes, Prinz Biederman and Marquis Chais, to say nothing of the double header, Don Marquis. Or Rex Stout.

Perhaps best of all is the hold of the enigmatic Lord Varney, a magazine editor. There is an almost uncontrollable impulse to place a comma after his first name. There was an office boy on Hampton's named King Royal. But it irked. He thought it too regal and when it had changed to James Smith.

But the fascination of names is not confined solely to those suggesting the pomp of thrones. Among those expressing undignified to me are Keats, Speed, Victor Herbert, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Richard Harding Davis and Meredith Nicholson. And one might suspect Edna St. Vincent Millay named herself.

The most amusing of the celebrity names, I think, is that of the enigmatic Lord Varney, a magazine editor. There is an almost uncontrollable impulse to place a comma after his first name. There was an office boy on Hampton's named King Royal. But it irked. He thought it too regal and when it had changed to James Smith.

Paul Whiteman is having another finish fight with avoirdupois. Having shucked down to the proper thinness, he began to break training and indulge a few of the dishes he craved. Now and then, too, he took on several pounds of his favorite brew—and before he knew it was some 40 pounds heavier. So he is back on the one meal a day diet and expects to stay until he puts his baton away and retires to his ranch in Colorado. Then all bets are off. He just expects to sit, gorge and listen to the radio.

Whiteman was the target for a mean bit of ribbing during the most rigid stretch of his diet several years ago. Charlie Butterworth arranged to have the ribber join them at night, when Paul was always hungriest and permitted to nibble only at a half apple. The ribber, bearing down on a Texas-sized raw hamburger with onions and a seidel of beer, told of arriving home the night before. And built up a great picture of going to the ice box and finding a cold boiled potato, a hock of boiled ham and a bottle of chilled milk. Whiteman, miming at his apple, could stand it no longer, pushed back his dessert plate and with teeth trickling his cheeks walked out into the night.

Seventh avenue had a swing-back to other days recently when one of those Greek candy kitchens was window demonstrator made an old-fashioned bow for recognition. In Herculean fashion, the demonstrator with Strangler Lewis bare shoulders and handlebar mustaches, featured lariat his thick rope of candy around his waist, and pulled it taut. Sidewalk crowds were attracted—I noticed Jack Dempsey getting an eyeful—but few evidently went inside, and in a day or so a "For Rent" sign was up.

And among the edible nick-nack exquisites in Manhattan is the portable popcorn stand that used to dot many corners. There was one in Broad street to which the elder Morgan sent office boys. There were many in the theatrical zone of Broadway. Chorus girls were popcorn addicts, as were gamblers. The world once told of Diamond Jim Brady on way from a play buying out a several-bushel supply from a stand in front of the Normandie. He circled the park in a Victoria until he was downed it. Then went on to Rector's for his midnight stoke. Today, I do not know of a single popcorn stand in midtown and only one place—Mary Elizabeth's—to procure popcorn balls.

There was a character who used to haunt the back of Pop Corn Bill. Irvin Cobb glorified him in a Saturday Evening Post folio. Bill's capacity for popcorn was many bolls. He could polish off one of those huge bowls—there was one in every bar—filled to overflowing without turning a hair. And his capacity for liquor was just as outstanding. But he died one day after a performance in the Martingue bar. And Frank O'Malley, as you might imagine, did a grand "obit" for him in The Sun.

They were talking about the advent of the gas stove. Baird Leonard's parents installed one and then went on a six months' tour of Europe, leaving the house in charge of Mandy, the cook. Upon their return, Mandy was asked about the stove. "I declare," she exclaimed, "that's the bestest thing ever I see. It ain't gone out yet."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Three years ago William Edgar Borah was at the bottom of a personal and political depression.

Senator Borah, whom he had been so instrumental in electing, was to him a bitter disappointment. The party which he had served throughout a lifetime had been overwhelmingly defeated. The state which had sent him to the senate for 30 years threatened, for the first time to desert him for a Democrat. His political power was nil.

Furthermore, Borah was in bad health. Two or three times a year he was forced to lie down on his office couch. The old fire was gone. The passion in his voice, the crusading fervor in his eye. Old friends shook their heads and said that the Lion of Idaho had reached the end of his political road.

But they did not know their Borah. Today, after an operation and several months rest, Borah is back with all the vigor and enthusiasm of a dozen years ago.

NEW BORAH

In fact it is a new, and probably better, Borah than the senate ever has seen before who is making his present fight for the Republican nomination. For this is Borah's biggest, probably his last fight.

In the opinion of some critics, it is also his first fight. For the chief criticism of Borah in the past was that he was not a "go-through guy."

He began hundreds of things, his critics said, never finished them. He started the fight against Kellogg's imperialistic policy in Mexico, then dropped it. He started the fight against marines in Nicaragua, then let it dangle in mid-air when other things attracted him.

He was lazy, his critics said. He preferred haranguing the multitudes in the senate arena to waging effective fights in committee and cloak-room. Never would he have the perseverance, they said, to wage the long, uphill campaign through the presidential primaries, to the Republican nomination in June.

Perhaps there was just enough truth in this to get under the senator's skin. Perhaps this is the big fight which he has chosen as the climax of a lifetime. Whatever the reason may be, William Edgar Borah is fighting as he never fought before. This time he is a "go-through guy." And there is no question that he has the power to achieve the goal he has set for himself:

1. Either get the nomination himself; or
2. Name the candidate and write the platform of the Republican party.

RELAXED

It was nearly 5 in the afternoon. The senate had adjourned, and a newspaperman walked down W. Capitol street toward the senate building office of Mr. Borah. He hoped to catch the senator before he left for the day.

Suddenly the newsmen stopped. Across the street, a bare-headed, hunched-over figure sat upon a low concrete bench partly hidden by shrubbery. There was something familiar about the cut of the hat of the silent figure, and the reporter crossed the street.

Borah was sitting alone, gazing off into the quiet of the spring evening. He looked up, smiled, pointed to the bench, moved his briefcase aside.

"Sit down for a minute," he said. "It is pleasant out here. It has been a lovely spring day."

"Senator," asked the reporter, after a moment, "how is the campaign going?"

"Well, it is hard to say. I am getting a great many encouraging responses. But as you know mine is a one-man campaign. We have no money and no organization. My leading opponents have both. We will be better able to tell how we stand after some of the primaries."

In the first contest in New York state last week, the Borah candidates for the national convention were snowed under, even in districts where they had been expected to make a strong showing. But it was not in the cards for Borah to show strength in New York, in spite of his personal invasion of this Old Guard territory.

COUZENS VS. BORAH

There was a day in 1924 when Borah could have had all the money he wanted from his friend Jim Couzens, in order to oppose Coolidge for the nomination. But Borah turned it down. Since then he and Couzens have become frigidly aloof, having quarreled over the McLeod closed bank pay-off bill.

That sore subject did not arise here. The reporter asked:

"What if money and organization lick you in the primaries, senator?"

There was deep silence for a moment. Then the senator said: "Win or lose, I shall be in the presidential fight to the end. And by the end, I mean November. There is one thing I can tell you definitely. The choice before the Republican party is clear liberalism or certain disaster."

"If the old repudiated bosses control the nomination, I shall know what to do. I have my mind made up on that."

FLETCHER VS. BORAH

The irony of the present political skirmishing is that this is the first campaign in years for which G. O. P. chieftains have not sought out Borah to do their heaviest oratorical cannonading. Now he is the last person they want as party standard-bearer.

Even about a year ago, Henry P. Fletcher, recently made chairman of the Republican national committee, called on the senator and expressed the hope that he might make several addresses under G. O. P. auspices during the summer.

Borah froze. Politely, but with terse bluntness, he informed his distinguished visitor he had absolutely no intention of doing so. He was going to talk strictly on his own responsibility. What he had to say would, and favor neither with Republicans nor Democrats.

Fletcher picked up his genuine Panama hat, gloves, English walking stick, shook hands and departed. That is the last contact Borah has had with the Grand Old Party.

REAL WASHINGTONIAN

Regardless of politics, the senator from Idaho is loved in Washington. In some ways he has become the capital's first citizen. Presidents have come and gone—Harding, Coolidge, Hoover—but Borah remains to challenge the second Roosevelt.

What Other Editors Say

A FLOOD HARNESTED
(From The Knoxville News-Sentinel)
Chattanooga, in the Tennessee river valley, has escaped what might have been a disastrous flood.

The reason was that up near the headwaters of the Clinch river, a large tributary to the Tennessee, some 25 miles from Knoxville and about 150 miles from Chattanooga, the Tennessee Valley Authority built Norris dam.

Constructed to help control floods, to assist in navigation, and to manufacture power, Norris dam is part of the great river harnessing project which is TVA. As such, it has been the subject of wide attack in and out of the courts, by the power trust and others.

But, because a wise administration and a wise congress approved the TVA act, Norris dam was there last week piling up a great wall of water. It has only been at work since March 4, when the sluice gates were closed.

And after a short time, it was able to hold back from the Clinch, and in turn from the Tennessee, 39,000 second-feet of water which would have been added to the already flooded Tennessee. Or, if you like your figures big, the dam held back 12,003,200 gallons of water every minute or 798,192,000 gallons every hour.

Perhaps it will be better understood if we say that because Norris dam was there and working in the Clinch river, the flood crest of the Tennessee at Chattanooga was about four feet lower than it would have been had not the Clinch been harnessed.

This is but one example of how a public river has been controlled for the public good.

This example can be repeated in other sections of the country which recently lost millions in property, and hundreds of lives, from disastrous floods.

A DAMAGING ATTITUDE

(From The Baltimore Sun)

In view of the appalling stupidity and dimwittedness of so many of the defenders of utility holding companies and other wickednesses, it will be easy for many to accept the senator's seeming view that one's constitutional rights vary according to the "crowd" to which one may be said to belong.

Nevertheless, the feeling is growing that the Black committee is indifferent to considerations which ought to be fundamental, that its crusading zeal in defense of the New Deal lays it open to the suspicion that resistance to New Deal policies is considered ground for the attentions of the committee. If this feeling gains sufficient momentum, the one's constitutional rights may be threatened.

A certain bank teller is looking for the fellow who slipped a bogus half dollar into the collection last Sunday. He got it and later on decided he did not want it. How to exchange it for a genuine half dollar is bothering him. The only advice I could offer would be for him to renew his church affiliation, stick to it until he established the faith of the brethren in his honesty, get an assignment to a position, passing the collection plate, slip in the bogus half and take out a good one. That would not be an honorable method, but it wasn't honorable when the other fellow put in the counterfeit half. Oh, let's skip it.

When a friend of mine came back from a trip to the Imperial valley he reported encountering an old "desert rat" who said he was with Perry on his trip to the North Pole. One day he did some exploring on his own hook. He said on his journey he encountered the biggest polar bear he ever saw in his life. All he had to do was himself with a double-edged axe. This he used with unerring accuracy. He said the axe was so sharp he cut the head off the bear with one stroke. The weather was so cold the bear stood in his tracks. So he picked up the bear's head and put it back on. Two days later when he took a few of his friends back to prove his story, he said that bear was the same spot and he had to cut his head off again. If you don't want to get that way stay away from the North Pole or the valley.
